

The best gyms around the world for design buffs in 2018

LIFESTYLE / 6 MAR 2018

Twitter Facebook Google+ Pinterest LinkedIn

Ever wondered where the design-minded go to relax, work-out and punch things? It turns out they've got quite the option list – stylish concept gyms are getting pulses racing everywhere.

But which are truly inspirational? London to Los Angeles, here's all you need to know about the world's best gyms, from shadowboxing in New York City, to stretching out in Singapore...

1Rebel St Mary Axe, London, UK

1Rebel's first boutique gym at London's St Mary's Axe was designed by Studio C102 to woo fitness lovers frustrated with the current gym model. Pay as you go? Check. Music you actually want to workout to? Check. And did we mention the chilled towels?

Industrial architecture at every turn exudes the philosophy that it's about pushing limits, not looking pretty. Copper piping snakes up the changing room walls and the gym's personalised playlists pump throughout.

63 St Mary Axe, London EC3A 8LE